CHIEF EXECUTIVE SLOWLY WINS WAY BACK TO STRENGTH

Temperature Normal—Has Been Somewhat
Restless—Is Taking Nourishment—A Sister and Children Admitted to Sick Room
—Asks When it Will be Possible to Leave

(By the Associated Press)
PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, Palace Hotel, San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 1.—President Harding was resting comfortably tonight after a day described by his physicians as "somewhat restless, but yet marked by many indications that he was slowly but surely winning his way back to health."

The restlessness of the day was in part due, it was said by the physicians, to a slight and only temporary attack of indigestion resulting from inability to assimilate two soft boiled eggs eaten for breakfast.

This unfavorable condition, however, was more than balanced by the decline of the president's temperature to normal for the first time.

SECRETARY TO PRESIDENT TO PRESENT GIFT

Harding's Illness Prevents Attendance at
K. T. Ceremony

(By the Associated Press)
San Francisco, Calif., August 1.—George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to President Harding, left San Francisco tonight for Los Angeles to act for the president in the presentation tomorrow of the Knights Templar Traveling Bequest to the Commandery at Hollywood.

The president, who is a Knight Templar with Marion, Ohio, his home commandery, had planned to make the presentation as one of the features of his visit to Los Angeles and vicinity. When he became ill and realized he could not go to Los Angeles, he directed Mr. Christian to act for him. During the return trip from Alaska, the chief executive wrote the address he planned to make in presenting the Bequest and Secretary Christian who is also a Knight Templar will read the address at the ceremonies in Hollywood Bowl.

Mr. Christian today carried a personal message from the president to the clergymen of San Francisco who gathered in Grace cathedral to pray for the speedy recovery of the chief executive.

Mr. Christian made a brief address to the clergymen telling them of the president's desire to be represented and of his appreciation of their solicitude.

ARTIST DISPOSSESSED TRIES TO BURN WORKS

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, August 1.—Art as proved so fickle a mistress to hide de Rohan d'Harcourt that when he was dispossessed today from his studio on East 72nd street he tried to burn his paintings in the street. He had destroyed three oils when a policeman came along and kicked the artificial pyre to pieces. One of the policeman's boots went right thru an oriental scene. Harcourt only shrugged his shoulders and sat down beside his ashes and Penates on the curb.

A crowd of several hundred witnessed the slight blaze and then started an auction sale, giving the artist $15 for an old fashioned music box and $2 for deerskin rug.

d'Harcourt had moved up town from Greenwich Village two months ago after having been unable to sell his works.

Cosden and Marland Refineries Closed

(By the Associated Press)
TULSA, Okla., Aug. 1.—Only two oil refineries in Oklahoma have suspended operations in line with the unofficial agreement reached by mid-Continent refiners in Chicago July 27 for voluntary shutdown, it was related tonight.

Fires in the Cosden and company plant here were drawn off this morning and the Marland Refining company plant at Tulsa City has been closed since yesterday afternoon. Other refineries however have taken no steps to close and officials of several companies announced they would continue operating.

The producers and refiners corporation with refineries at West Tulsa and Blackwell, thru assistant Sales Manager, McDowell announced that fuel oil contracts it had would cause it to run its two plants at full capacity.

The Sapulpa Refining company at Sapulpa has gasoline and fuel oil contracts which will keep its plant busy, it was announced.

Mention of both of these elements in the president's condition was made by the attending physicians in a bulletin issued at 4:50 o'clock this evening. The bulletin added that there was evidence of "slight improvement" in the condition of the lungs, where central patches of broncho-pneumonia have existed since Monday. The pulse according to the bulletin had varied during the day from 116 to 120 and the respiration from 36 to 40.

Every official statement from the attending physicians during the day contained evidences of improvement and every report from the sick room told of steady progress. The result is that tonight the cautious physicians are all ready to announce that all danger is passed. They recognize however, as they said in a bulletin issued shortly after 10 o'clock that "every care is necessary to assure freedom from further complications."

Nourishment Given
With this situation existing there was a settling down during the day to the task of bringing about a recovery which will require an indefinite number of days.

The amount of nourishment taken by the chief executive during the day was small but as one of the physicians said, "quite sufficient." It continued to consist of milk, soft boiled eggs, a little toast, and fruit juices. Another indication of progress was that he received his first visitor in two days, Mrs. E. E. Rensberg, of Santa Anna, Cal., his sister. She, with her daughters arrived in San Francisco early in the day and shortly before noon she spent several minutes in her brother's room but was requested by the physicians not to talk with him as it might tire him.

Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Rensberg said had stood the strain very well.

Attorney General Arrives
Attorney General Daugherty also arrived during the day from Seattle. He spent some time in the presidential suite but was not permitted to see the president. He took rooms at another hotel as he has a number of matters of official business to take care of, he said.

Plans for the restoration of the president's strength continued to be discussed by members of the party and the plan seemingly most favored at this stage is a return to Washington by what is commonly known as the "Overland Route" as soon as the president is well able to travel. In such an event the presidential train would make no attempt at speed, would run on a schedule that would take it thru heated valleys and across the desert during the cool hours of the night as far as possible and at other times stop for the night.

There was no attempt to fix any date for departure.

Any plan decided upon will be subject to advice of the physicians.

Mrs. George Stewart and daughter Mary were Wednesday shoppers in Jacksonville from Winchester.

PARLIAMENT TO HEAR BALDWIN'S REPORT TODAY

Prospect of Agreement with France is Remote

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Aug. 1.—Whether the closing sitting of parliament tomorrow will reveal the next step of the British government in the difficult European problem is still unknown.

The cabinet's prolonged discussion of the situation today has only brought thus far the announcement that Premier Baldwin and Lord Curzon will make simultaneous statements in the house of commons and the lords respectively tomorrow, but not the slightest indication of the nature of these statements.

The prime minister's admission in the commons today that the absence of permission from the French and Belgian governments for the publication of their notes on the debate would be restricted, seems to point to the fact that the government does not consider the time has arrived to take any new line. M. Poincare, the French premier, has all along insisted upon the secrecy of the negotiations and until he lifts this embargo, or the British government decides that it is impossible to suffer further delay it is difficult to see how there can be any publication or revelation of the communications which have passed between the allied governments.

May Be A Warning
Hopeless as the prospect of an agreement with France seems the probabilities point to an attempt by the government to achieve such agreement by further negotiation in which case Premier Baldwin's statement in parliament is likely to be comparatively brief dealing with the British position and embodying a renewed warning to France that the negotiations cannot be indefinitely protracted. The prime minister also will probably appeal to the house not to embarrass the delicate and difficult negotiations by hard criticisms, he having already undertaken that a special session of parliament shall be called if a new situation arises requiring the sanction of that body.

How carefully the government has to proceed before risking an open breach with France was illustrated in the house of commons tonight. The house was discussing the grave problem of unemployment and Sir Clement Montagu Barlow, minister of labor, outlining the various government plans for relief works, expressed apprehension that the coming winter would be no better than the last in the industrial field despite the promise of an abundant harvest and that the ultimate hope depended on the economic and industrial peace of Europe.

Considers Effects
The former chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Robert Horne, exhorted the government to keep clearly in view the ultimate effect on unemployment of the particular policy it adopted. He argued that both Germany and France were likely to be Britain's greatest trade competitors; they were both largely in Britain's debt and were making no effort to pay those debts. He contended that if Germany escaped paying reparations she would become the most powerful country in Europe; Germany had not been idle, but had reconstructed the whole of her great industrial organization. It would be unwise to give her too long a moratorium which would assist her to become Great Britain's competitor.

Turning to France, Sir Robert pointed out her failure to pay herself adequately; in fact her capital debt was in fact 1,400,000,000 pounds less than the British debt and her taxation one half per head of the British, while she had not only re-established her trade but had a greater volume of exports and imports than before the war.

Sir Robert Horne belongs to the Lloyd George party whose business it is to call attention to matters of this kind in relation to the government but his views reflect those largely held here.

TWO DAYS WITHOUT DEATH, THE RECORD

(By the Associated Press)
QUINCY, Ill., August 1.—Quincy today established what is believed to be a record or at least an unusual occurrence when more than two days elapsed without a death in the city of 40,000 persons. The last death reported was 12:05 o'clock Monday, and not another had been reported by undertakers or called for by newspapers or sent to press at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Ridder and her niece, Mrs. Regina Ridder were shoppers from Alexander yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Herbert Gushman of New York City who has been visiting at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Bishop left Tuesday night for Detroit Michigan where she will be joined by her husband and they will then return to their home in the east.

Official Statement By General Sawyer

(By the Associated Press)
PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, Palace Hotel, San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 1.—Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, personal physician to President Harding after "taking stock" as he said, of the condition of his patient, declared shortly before 10 o'clock tonight that the chief executive's temperature was normal and had been so all day; his breathing was less labored than it had been since his illness began. His respirations are a little less frequent. His pulse is as in the bulletin this afternoon (between 116 and 120). Now you'd all, as laymen—interpret such things as we have been saying as favorable wouldn't you? Yes, well that's my judgment too.

Offers Criticism
Dr. Sawyer took to task certain newspaper men, who, he declared had been printing unwarranted stories of business conferences between the president and his advisers in the sick room.

"There is no basis in fact for such statements," he declared. "This man has been a sick man. He is not capable of transacting any business. His convalescence is going to take time. He may and most likely will have ups and downs. He may have some nervous irritation or some slight indigestion."

"We are not looking for trouble but he is liable to complications. I won't say that he will have them, but we must guard against them."

Dr. Sawyer minimized the amount of fresh information that might be expected as to the president's condition.

He declared the president's convalescence necessarily must be "tedious" and repeated his warning that there should be no undue excitement or changes in temperature or other incidents of that period.

PARDON GRANTED BY GOVERNOR TO FORMER CITIZEN
Pardon Also Given Deputy Sheriff Who Shot Speeder

(By the Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 1.—The penitentiary sentence of Jacob Klein, millionaire deputy sheriff of DuPage county, sent to Joliet for shooting an alleged speeder was commuted today by Governor Small on the recommendation of the division of pardons and paroles.

The governor also commuted the sentence of Howard Berry, colored, in the Pontiac Reformatory. He was sent to the prison from Morgan county in 1922 upon a conviction of robbery. He has tuberculosis and in the opinion of physicians can live only a few days.

The action of the governor in the Klein case followed the recommendation of the trial judge, C. F. Irwin, who declared in a letter to the division of pardons and paroles that Klein "was not guilty of anything more serious in the law than a careless use of his revolver while he was attempting as deputy sheriff to enforce the automobile speed law."

The physician, Dr. Fletcher, reported that Klein was suffering from heart disease, that he cannot recover and that in his present condition he may die any day. When he leaves Joliet he will be removed on a cot.

Unfortunate Action
It was one of those unfortunate misadventures, Judge Irwin's recommendation continued, "Not only is the record free from anything which would lead the men into belief that Jacob Klein, intentionally killed the deceased but when one considers the fact that he has been president, vice president and director of the Farmers and Merchants bank of Downers Grove for 20 years, and acted as highway commissioner for a considerable time, had been a humane officer of the court for 12 years and a deputy sheriff for more than two terms, together with the fact that for 39 years he had been one of the leading and most substantial livestock men of the county, it seems impossible to attribute to him any criminal motive."

"I know the people of DuPage county, and while there may be some few who would be reluctant, on account of political and personal reasons, to advise Mr. Klein's pardon, yet I feel that an hearty extension of executive clemency would meet with the hearty approval of the great majority of its citizens."

Klein was convicted in 1921 of the murder of Leo Newman and sentenced to imprisonment for 14 years. For some time Klein had been a deputy sheriff. In an effort to stop a speeding automobile near his home in DuPage county, Klein is alleged to have fired a shot Newman. He was taken to the Joliet penitentiary December 22, 1922, on a stretcher. He has been in a mate of the hospital ever since he was received at Joliet.

WHOLE DEPARTMENT CALLED TO FIGHT MILWAUKEE BLAZE

(By the Associated Press)
MILWAUKEE, Wis., August 1.—Three men were burned to death and three others are missing in a fire that swept the Greenfield Avenue plant of the Milwaukee Coke & Gas company here today. The fire started with an explosion in the building used for the storage of benzol and spread so rapidly and burned so fiercely that firemen were unable to get within a block of the place until it had partly burned itself out.

The dead, Frank Spencer, Walter Goodwin and Kurt Martin, all employees of the company.

The benzol plant was razed by the flames, and the blaze rapidly spread to the paint shops. A heavy wind blew the flames toward the coal piles which also were set ablaze. When the fire started in the lowest explosion, workmen realizing their peril, rushed from the building without stopping to investigate. More explosions followed.

A third alarm brought all the city's available fire fighting apparatus, including the fire boats. By this time smoke was rolling skyward in huge blankets interspersed by flames toward the city and toward other buildings. The heat from the burning coal tar products was so intense firemen could not get near the fire.

Streams played on the fringe of the blaze, efforts being concentrated to prevent spreading.

CORRUPTION IN MADISON STATE CAPITAL, CLAIM

Governor Should Investigate Officially
Says Senator

(By the Associated Press)
MADISON, Wis., Aug. 1.—Governor Blaine should call a special session of the legislature if he desires to learn more of the stories of vice at the state capital was the statement tonight of Senator H. J. Svenson in reply to the telegram of Governor Blaine this morning. In the telegram Governor Blaine had demanded that the Senate make public any information he might have concerning alleged vice at the state capital which Senator Svenson said, in a speech at Waupaca last night, existed.

Svenson's latest scandal charge is the outgrowth of similar charges made while the legislature was in session. At that time the senator urged an investigation but probe resolutions were voted down. Svenson alleges that the governor's influence was against investigation.

Says Facts Are Known
"Governor Blaine knows the inside facts of these things already, and has known them all along," Svenson said tonight. "He opposed any investigation and pointed all complainants to the courts for relief."

"If he asks for proof, I shall tell him the quickest way for him to get proof is to cease fighting an investigation of conditions in the capital."

Svenson reiterated his charges of alleged corruption in official circles at Madison.

"The governor should call a special session of the legislature," he said. "I will then give him an opportunity to get behind a move for an investigation. Then the facts can be determined under oath."

Reports of vice and corruption in official circles came as thrillers during the closing days of the legislative session. In his speech on the floor of the senate Svenson made no specific charges but said reports of wrongdoing justified an investigation.

EUROPE-BOUND FOR CHANCE AT FIRST HAND INFORMATION

LaFollette, McKinley and Others Enroute to Attend Meeting in Geneva—Intend to Thoroughly Familiarize Selves With Actual Conditions Abroad—To Visit Extensively

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Declaring that he intended to obtain first hand information regarding conditions in Europe so that his "constituents would have nothing on me," Senator Robert M. LaFollette sailed on the George Washington today, with four other senators who are to attend the inter-allied parliamentary union at Geneva.

Those sailing with him were Senators McKellar of Tennessee, McKinley of Illinois, Robinson of Arkansas, and Swanson of Virginia.

Representative John E. Raker of California also was in the party.

While these senators were sailing they passed Senators Gerry of Rhode Island and Stanley of Kentucky who returned from a European trip on the Majestic.

Senator LaFollette was in a jovial mood and declared he was in the pink of condition, and that while his European tour was intended as a visit only, he would not neglect looking over the continent and familiarize himself with important subjects.

He said his trip was directed mostly by Basil Manley, former director of research and investigation and one time United States commissioner of industrial relations.

The senator who recently left a sanitarium in Michigan, after he had directed the victorious fight of Senator-elect Magnus Johnson of Minnesota, declared he was feeling "great." He would not discuss affairs of state.

Senator Swanson said he would visit Germany, France, England, Switzerland and Geneva where he would study the workings of the league of nations. From there he expects to go to Moscow.

In regard to the political situation, Senator Swanson said: "It is impossible to say this early as to who the Democratic nominee should be for the next presidential election. The man should be a progressive liberal. This would be in accord with the sentiment existing in the country."

"I favor the United States entrance into the world court as proposed in the message of President Harding and Secretary Hughes conveyed to the senate before its adjournment. But I am opposed to the world court as proposed by President Harding in his St. Louis address."

"I would not favor entering the court if it is to be a self-perpetuating court. This proposal is most reactionary, and absurd. We would not consider making our supreme court self-perpetuating, and the world court thus organized would be more objectionable."

McKellar's Itinerary
Senator McKellar announced he intended to make an extensive tour of countries abroad and visit the Ruhr, Moscow, Rome, Paris, Berlin and London.

"As for the world court, I was for it as outlined in President Harding's speech last February. But I do not favor the self-perpetuating court proposed by the president at St. Louis."

Senator McKellar echoed almost verbatim the words of Senator LaFollette of a few days ago that a third party move is certain if the old parties nominate reactionaries. The one point of difference was in McKellar's prediction that the Democrats could be relied upon to nominate "a real, genuine, progressive Democrat."

Senator Robinson said he was in favor of the war finance corporation, co-operative marketing agencies and "any plan which appears to be reasonable and fair to aid farmers caught in the jam of high prices for what they buy and low ones for what they sell."

He would not be drawn into any discussion as to presidential nominee possibilities.

Senator McKinley will visit the Ruhr after attending the Union and also hopes to visit the soviet authorities at Moscow.

"I am not directly opposed to the world court plan," he said, "but I am not in favor of it as suggested by President Harding in his St. Louis address."

Representative Raker, who is the ranking Democrat on the house immigration committee, will study the immigration problem.

Peck's Bad Boy To Referee Trapshoot

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Peck's Bad Boy—George W. Peck—known to three generations of fiction readers, will referee during the Grand American Trapshooting championships to be held at the South Shore Country Club here August 20 to 25.

George W. Peck, son of the author of Peck's Bad Boy, George W. Peck, senior, who was governor of Wisconsin and a widely known newspaper editor and writer, is the originator of the boy character of his father's books who escapes excited both approval and disapproval as well as laughter; and he now is a quiet and industrious citizen.

Twice a grandfather, Peck's Bad Boy no longer is a boy or bad. Peck has lived in Chicago for a number of years. He is an enthusiastic trapshooter and his application to act as referee in the championship tournament was immediately accepted by Starr Matthews, secretary of the amateur trapshooting association.

Men of wealth in many other nations have been sending their money to the United States for safe-keeping. Even the Russian bolsheviks have been sending their movable valuables here. All of which is a compliment to America and a rather hard blow at bolshevism.

The continued lack of rain brings forcibly to mind the fact that there must be some enlargement of Jacksonville's water supply in order to meet the increasing needs of the city. It has always been pointed out that a larger main from the plant to South Main street is essential together with a stand pipe adjacent to the west side reservoir and some other betterments less costly. It is estimated that an expenditure of $80,000 would make the needed improvements, stop the big wastage because of the leaky reservoir and in other ways put the water system into the desired condition.

Thru proper co-operation Jacksonville can readily bring these things to pass.

While discussion about the Ruhr goes on in diplomatic circles in England, France and Belgium, the simple fact remains that without economic peace and cooperation there can be very little peace of any other sort. Germany has coal and France has iron and each nation needs a share of the other's product to conduct its manufacturing.

In the United States economic peace and prosperity are promoted by the fact that a product from any one section is available to all the others. Pennsylvania has coal, Michigan has ore, the South has cotton, the North has power to run the country's machinery and so on. All are members of the same Union and so are mutually friendly and helpful.

Less diplomacy and statesmanship and more economic vision would help the Ruhr situation considerably.

AID FOR EUROPEAN SCIENCE

The Rockefeller Foundation's own work in the field of medical research has received a good deal of quiet publicity. Another phase of its work is disclosed in the report for 1922.

During last year the Foundation sent 1,323 subscriptions for scientific journals to 216 medical libraries in 12 different countries as follows: Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, France, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Poland, Portugal, Roumania, Russia, Yugoslavia.

It aided certain medical schools in Europe to replace worn-out apparatus and to renew depleted laboratory supplies. It granted fellowships to such schools as the Pasteur Institute of Paris in order to insure the training of young men and women for medical and other scientific research, so that the continuity of progress in such field would not be broken too seriously as a result of the war. These fellowships provided for training both in this country and in European countries.

Relief work in general means aid to a mass of needy people. This sort of relief work really is a selective program in the interest of medical science throughout the entire world. It is of more far-reaching importance than the other.

BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT

Stanley Baldwin, Prime Minister of England, has a way of speaking his thoughts which appeals to his American audience. The other day, in London, at a dinner given by the Lord Mayor, the governor of the Bank of England, the Secretary of the United States Treasury and Mr. Baldwin were all guests. In the Prime Minister's speech he said: "No business arrangement could have been carried out more fairly more honorably and more pleasantly in its details than the settlement of our debt to America which was negotiated in Washington last January."

"I believe that a great deal of credit, if credit there was, for the rapidity with which that great question was solved, arose from the fact that the governor of the Bank of England, Mr. Mellon and I were all three of us individually and collectively far more business men even than we were politicians or statesmen."

"I have often felt that had it been possible to leave the settlement of Europe in the hands of business men, we might have arrived at some settlement long before this time."

Mr. Baldwin did not mean this as an indictment of the ability or honesty of lawyers, politicians or statesmen. He simply pointed out what he believed to be a fact, that business men, approaching such problems with little awe for red tape, tradition or fixed diplomatic procedure, might bring to bear on them more prompt and efficient understanding. It is a point of view that stimulates thought.

COUNTY DELEGATION TO CAMP HAS LEFT

Ten young men, Morgan County's delegation to the Citizens Military Training camp, have left for Camp Custer, Michigan, where the camp is situated.

The boys making the trip are largely of high school age and look forward to a vacation that besides being free, will be both pleasant and beneficial. The camp is operated by experienced officers of the regular army and is an important part of this country's scheme of national defense. Each summer the young men of each military district are trained at a camp in their district for one month. When a young man has been present at the camp for three of these summer terms he is graduated, and if he has mastered the various subjects taught, and is of age, is given either a commission as a reserve lieutenant in the army, who may be called out in time of war only, or is given a warrant as a non-commissioned officer. During the great war the nation found that its possibly greatest difficulty was in finding enough men to train the draft levies but now this trouble is eliminated for there will be these young men, products of summer training, all ready to teach the new recruits.

The Morgan County youths who are now present at the camp are John Holman, William Randall, William Roberts, Frank Rowland and Carl Keenher of Jacksonville; Percy Edith, Joseph Hughes and Louis Perry of Mercedosa and Clarence Kitner and Harry Ezard of Woodson.

Work shoes $1.98, dress shoes $4.85. Hopper's.

M. and Mrs. Edward Fee and daughter, Mrs. George May, were Wednesday shoppers from Mercedosa.

REBUILDING LEVEES IN GREENE COUNTY

Work of Restoring Drainage Works in Western Greene County Now Under Way—Additional Pumping Units Installed.

White Hall, Aug. 1.—Great strides are being made in the work of restoring the drainage works in western Greene county along the Illinois river, necessitated by the high water during the spring of last year. The Fairbanks and Hartwell districts have levees to rebuild, and in the Hillview district not only is the levee work receiving attention, but additional pumping units are now being installed, two in number. One 30-inch electric pump is being placed at the end of Long lake on the east line of the Leonard lane to take care of the Swan lake territory, and the other is a 15-inch to be located 2,000 feet north from the C and A railroad. These are additional to the pumping units at the pumping station which include two 30-inch electric pumps and a 24, 22 and 60-inch steam pumps. The Hillview district was not submerged by the flood waters of the Illinois river during the spring of last year, but it was a great battle to prevent such a catastrophe. One instance is afforded by the item for fuel and power during April 1922, which amounted to $9,000. The present requirements of the pumps are very light.

Henry Ford Talks About the Presidency

This week's issue of Collier's will carry an authorized interview with Henry Ford outlining his views on national issues. Charles W. Wood was the interviewer and while he does not attempt to quote verbatim Mr. Ford's statement, he vouches for the correctness of the interview. Paragraphs from this unusually interesting article, tending to show the "richest man in the world" in a new light are quoted herewith:

"There are approximately 110,000,000 people in the United States," I informed Henry Ford "and 99,000,000 of them want to know what you are going to do about the presidency."

"Stick around for a few days and I will tell you," was his amazing answer.

"Do you mean it?" I gasped. That is what I had gone to Dearborn to get, but I didn't expect it to fall on me, kerplunk, like this.

"Certainly, I mean it," said he. "You caught me at just the right time. That's the very question I've been thinking about."

And Henry Ford kept his promise. He told me exactly what was on his mind and urged me to make it plain to the readers of Collier's. There were no reservations. He was a different Henry from what I had ever known before. He talked freely on political subjects. He did not talk like a politician; he talked like a man who had been making a real study of the problems. I spent several days in Dearborn and usually had two or three hours alone with him each day. This was not because of any special liking for me, or any desire to do me a great favor.

"Isn't it a good beginning," I asked "to inquire what you would do if you were President?"

"No," he said. "That's at the top of the pile. It will roll into your hands in time, but, for goodness' sake, wait for it. If you could only forget for a minute that you are a newspaper man, you could see how meaningless some of these questions are."

How does any living person know, in 1923, what he would do in 1926 or 1927? If I were president in 1927, what I would do would depend upon 1927.

"How would you begin?" I asked.

"I'll tell you how I did begin," he said. "I'll tell you how I began to manufacture motor cars. I began by thinking of something the people wanted which they didn't have. If I had invented an apparatus for shining bald heads, I couldn't have got very far with it. It might have been an ingenious apparatus, and there are plenty of bald heads, but that isn't the point. You have to begin by finding out what the people want. What do the people of America want today?"

"It looks as though they wanted to make you president," I said. "Do they, or do they just think they do?" he asked. "Does anybody want to make me an admiral or an archbishop?"

"I'll tell you," he said, "a good way to go at this. You write down these three questions and then write out your own answers to them. Do it tomorrow, and then come to me the day after. By that time I think we can do business."

Here are the three questions that Henry Ford gave me:

(1) What do the people of the United States think they want?

(2) What do they really want?

(3) Exactly what is wrong with the country, anyway?

"You can't bluff much in modern industry," he said. "You may ordain a man to be a bishop, but you can't ordain him to be an electrician. In order to be an electrician, he's got to find out for himself just how electricity acts. Modern industry is based upon modern science, and in science a fact is the only authority that amounts to anything."

"But politics was invented before the scientific era, so politics and industry can't travel along exactly the same lines yet. The industrialist has to find out what the people want and get it to them. The politician can still content himself with finding out what they think they want and promising it."

"The industrial organism is stronger and healthier than the political organism. It has more life flowing through it, more energy. Shouldn't wonder if industry would eventually absorb the political government. But not yet a while. These things take time. If there is some big, silly, utterly useless tribunal stalling itself in one of our factories, I could dynamite it out of there in ten minutes. But suppose I were President—I couldn't step out some Saturday night and fire the Supreme Court."

The potatoes were beginning to roll down just as he said they would.

"I certainly couldn't run the Government the way I run my business," he went on. "There's a heap of waste in government. There's a foolish lot of overhead. Just suppose a motor factory were organized into forty-eight different squares with imaginary lines running up and down across the floors, and different rules and different sets of officials on each side of all the imaginary lines—way, I'll bet cars would cost a million dollars apiece, having to manufacture them in any such way as that. Yet, when we think of government, we take it for granted that there must be forty-eight States."

The government departments and bureaus and divisions and subdivisions also take on a character of permanency that looks funny to a manager of industry. In order to achieve a specific aim, it establishes an institution—that it tries to keep that established institution intact through discarding institutions that have become more efficient scheme it hit upon. But government keeps up establishing bureaus to account for the money it spends establishing bureaus.

"Politically we not only keep all the old truck around, but we make it sacred. We speak in awe of our form of government, and even pass laws making it a crime to criticize it. You can't imagine an industry thriving if it considered its form of organization beyond criticism."

"Would you substitute autocracy?" I asked.

"No," said Mr. Ford. "What could you do?"

"I could watch it and see how far it would go. Something is going to happen to it one of these days, but I don't know which one. It won't be an explosion; it will be evolution. Society is evolving toward the industrial idea. We are evolving from the notion of authority to the principle of accurate knowledge. We are evolving from the law of fear to the law of service. Efficient service demands that we get rid of things that have outlived their usefulness. If the government doesn't do this, the Government will go down, that's all. If America doesn't do this, America will go down. But I'm an optimist. I'm sure we're going to get rid of all these dead cells as soon as the time comes to get rid of them."

"I haven't talked much politics yet, have I?" he began, in our next conversation. "Well, I'm coming to it. In order to make any head or tail out of anything you've got to see it from the standpoint of evolution. A thing comes into existence when it's needed, and it goes out when it's ripe and ready to go out. Now, if I am going to run for President I've got to have a platform, haven't I?"

"In such a crisis as the present," I concurred, "it seems that there must be a platform. The people are fairly yearning for one."

So we talked about his platform. A platform is supposed to be a statement of principles; and I confess that a statement of Henry Ford's principles in political language is rather beyond me. But here is a digest of that conversation, as near as I have been able to translate it into platformese:

Ford's Platform

All that America needs is the freest possible play of American energy. In the life process, organizations are eliminated as soon as they have ceased to function, in order that better organizations may arise and function in orderly succession. But since evolution is not under congressional supervision, we wish to assure the American people that they are getting about what's coming to them, and that there won't be much improvement until it is time for it. President Harding is doing as well as can be expected, and Congress has not yet marred the design of the universe.

International Relations

International difficulties result from misunderstanding, and the best way to get along with other people is to get acquainted with them and with ourselves. Europe is in a bad way today because Europe doesn't know anything, and therefore isn't working. As soon as Europe discovers that it is Europe, its people are likely to quit being merely nationalists and become Europeans. Then they will in all probability go to work.

The United States cannot be of much assistance to Europe in the present crisis, first, because of the narrow nationalism of Europe, and second, because of the narrow nationalism of the United States. We promise our constituents, however, that this wrong will be righted just as soon as the truth becomes generally known that the real interests of people in various parts of the earth do not conflict.

The Tariff

The tariff is a joke, but it is apt to hang on, to the detriment of both America and foreign countries, until the people learn that special privileges do not pay. Our nation needs no special privileges and won't be perfectly happy until it settles down to doing that share of the world's work for which it has the greatest natural capacity.

Ship Subsidy

Giving a bonus for incapacity is a brilliant procedure, provided our object is to waste money and keep the world's work from being done. Wealth can be produced so easily that there need be no great cry concerning expenditures, but our objection to the ship subsidy is that it would seriously hamper shipping.

Soldiers' Bonus

The proposal to give a bonus to veterans of the late war implies that the soldier cannot hold his own in competition with others, and is an insult to the ex-service man. If the ex-service men are unfitted, because of wounds, or other disability, for the normal competition of life, they should be made fit immediately, and all the resources of modern science should be devoted to the task.

Agriculture

The great trouble with farming is that it involves too much unnecessary work. There is no reason why agriculture may not hope to come abreast of the other industries in the near future, if the farmer will turn his attention to modern industrial methods instead of to the problem of growing money. There is no food scarcity. The problem is not one of how to increase production, and thereby pile up a surplus for speculators to play with, but how to simplify production and distribution so that less human energy shall be wasted in the process.

Railroads

There should be a railroad system in the United States instead of the antiquated network of financial corporations which take toll along the nation's highways today.

The Government seems to be the only agency in sight with power to establish such a system, and it looks as though the Government would do so presently. Whether we shall have an actual railroad system then, or further trouble, will depend much on whether the Government tries to run the roads from the floor of Congress or hires somebody who knows how to do the job and lets him do it.

Prohibition

Booze had to go out when modern industry and the motor car came in. Upon only one condition can the nation safely let it come back. That is, if we are willing to abolish modern industry and the motor car.

Peace

The only way to assure world peace is to give world service. Incidentally, this pays enormously; but, until the people find it out, we may enjoy the luxury of continued fighting.

How Ford Sees Harding

Allowing for certain licenses of translation, that is Henry Ford's platform about as he gave it to me.

"Do you think you could run on that platform?" I asked.

"Run what?"

"Run for the presidency."

"That's so," he said. "We were speaking about the presidency, weren't we? I have no fault to find with President Harding."

"What has he done?" I wanted to know.

"That's just it," said Henry Ford. "Maybe it isn't time to do anything yet. If that's the case, the best man for the job is the man who can be depended upon not to do anything. I know Mr. Harding. He reminds me of a cautious, big elephant who always puts his foot on a plank and tries it before he risks going ahead. That's the type of man to have until the time arrives for rapid change."

"But why didn't you make this plain before?" I asked.

"It wasn't time for it," he said. "But you have knocked American politics shy high." I protested. "Millions of people are looking to you as a Messiah. It can't be any fun for you to string them along for months and the spring such an announcement as this. You could have the Democratic nomination for the asking."

"And what could I do with it?" "You could probably be elected President."

"And what could I do as President?" "Could I carry out that platform?"

"Perhaps not," I admitted. "Well, we are carrying it out," he said. "We have been releasing some little energy in the United States. We have been sending motor cars and tractors all over the world, and everywhere they go—Mexico, Russia, China, or whatever country you can name—roads are built and the people get acquainted with each other, and the State and national boundaries begin to fade."

"We haven't been able to repeal the tariff, but we have demonstrated that special privileges aren't worth having. We are co-operating joyously with the ex-service men. We are finding ways to develop agriculture. We are even enforcing prohibition, when we manufacture motor cars. Incidentally, we intend to make a demonstration of what a real railroad may be like."

"Why, everything I turn on a job like this, and I see something that ought to be done, I seem to discover some way to do it. But there's Harding. When he sees something that ought to be done, where is he? It seems to me that a man like me ought to stay on that job and a man like him on that. I don't see any more sense in making me President than in making him head of our research laboratory."

"Now, if I wanted to play politics, I would say exactly what I am going to say, anyway. But I am not playing politics. I am not a candidate for anything. I can't imagine myself today accepting any nomination. Of course I can't say, and no intelligent man can say, what I will do tomorrow. There might be a war, or some crisis of the sort, in which legalism and constitutionalism and all that wouldn't figure, and the nation wanted some person who could do things and do them quick. What I would do then I can't say. But there isn't any such situation now. I haven't a political mind, and I don't see any sense in my attempting any political leadership."

"But Harding stands for the ship subsidy and the tariff and private ownership of the railroads," I reminded him.

"But evolution is on the job," he replied. "Harding blocked the soldiers' bonus, and Congress blocked the ship subsidy. Altogether things are happening about right, and you've got to give them both credit for it. A lot of people are impatient for things to happen faster, but things don't happen faster, but things don't happen fast in politics. Not until we get out of the political era can we expect big changes. While we are in it, let us by all means have such men as Warren G. Harding."

CHANGE OF LIFE LOSES TERRORS

For Women who Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Pa.—"I took your medicine through the Change of Life and it did wonders for me. I was down in bed when I started to take it and weighed 95 pounds. I had hot flashes and was so nervous and weak that everything would get black and I could not see. I would sit and cry and did not know what I was crying for. Since I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel younger than I did ten years ago, and my friends all tell me I look younger, and I owe it all to the Vegetable Compound. I do all my housework for a family of seven now. I will be glad to answer any woman who writes me in regard to my case."—Mrs. JOHN MYERS, 55 Union St., Greenville, Pa.

Many letters similar to this have been published testifying to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They are sincere expressions from women who describe as best they can their feelings before and after taking this well-known medicine.

My Envied Hair
Is one thing I owe to France
By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is my greatest glory. It is more luxuriant than 40 years ago.

I am old in years, but I look like a girl of 19. My hair is thick and lustrous. It has never begun to grow gray. Falling hair and dandruff are unknown to me.

The reason lies in a formula which I found in France. Many of my friends on the stage have used it, and they gained results like mine. They all have wondrous hair.

Now I have arranged so every woman, every man, may share these benefits with me. This formula which France gave me, is at your store today.

Why Hair Declines
Those experts told me this: The scalp is like a garden. One must stimulate, fertilize and clean it.

An oil called sebum hardens there. Dandruff forms. These things clog the hair roots, stop the growth. And they stifle the glands which supply pigment to the hair.

Thus hair stops growing, loses luster, falls out or turns gray. The way to fight those troubles or correct them is to treat the scalp.

The results is my heavy, silky, lustrous hair which many young girls envy. I believe that any woman who employs it will always thank me for it.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth is supplied by all druggists and toilet counters. Price 50c and $1 with eye-dropper. Also my White Youth Clay. Also my Youth Cream, based on lemon and strawberry. Also my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. My Beauty Book comes with each.

I hope you will let my Hair Youth show you the way to more beautiful hair.

Edna Wallace Hopper, Business Address, Waukesha, Wisc.

FISHING PARTY TO CANADA HAS WITH IT OHIO CONVICTS
Governor Says Muss Stirred Up is Political Bunk
(By the Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 1.—Without word from Governor Donahay and Warden P. E. Thomas of the Ohio penitentiary who with the governor's six sons and the warden's son started on a fishing trip into Canada Monday, attaches of the executive office this evening were trying to figure the outcome of "international complications" which has arisen by the presence in the governor's party of two convicts from the state prison, taken along as cook and chauffeur.
Advices from Canadian official sources today were that the dominion government prohibits the entrance of criminals into its domain and that steps may be taken by immigration officials there to deport them. It was presumed at the executive office that Governor Donahay was not yet aware of the "complications."
Governor's Explanation
Toronto, Ont., Aug. 1.—Governor Donahay of Ohio, in an interview with the Toronto Star today characterized as "political bunk" the prominence given the news that two convicts were accompanying his fishing party in Northern Ontario as servants.
The governor was further quoted as saying:
"This news was published to hurt me. I have a signed pardon on my desk at the executive mansion for Earl Jennings, one of the murderers and C. Zipiani, the other, is employed as a cook. Both men are trustees, and have been for over five years."
"These boys are not real murderers. They were convicted of second degree murder; not first. They started to fight in a pool room and in both cases their opponents were accidentally killed. I am personally responsible for these men and I know them."

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!
When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great relief. "Mother's Friend," Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; I had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., P. O. INFORMAL RECEPTION FOR SEATTLE PASTOR

Central Christian Church Members Attend Gathering for Dr. and Mrs. Thrapp—Vocal Solos by Minister's Wife Are Greatly Enjoyed

Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Thrapp were entertained last evening with an informal reception at Central Christian church, which was attended by nearly two hundred members of that organization. The reception was preceded by the regular Wednesday evening service in charge of Elder William Osborne. Dr. Thrapp, in a short address, recalled many incidents of his pastorate of 11 years in this city. It was during his stay here as pastor of the Christian church that the present edifice was erected. Dr. Thrapp stated that in his mind the three outstanding features of his work here were the building of the new church, two or three dry campaigns, and the Billy Sunday meetings.

PYTHIANS HAD TO PUT OFF FISH FRY

Scarcity of Fish and Chicken Puts Crimp in Plans for Event Which Was to Have Been Held This Evening—May Be Staged Before End of Season.

The fish fry which was to have been given this evening at the Pythian One Hundred club near Mercedes, has been postponed indefinitely. This event was to be under the auspices of Favorite Lodge No. 376. Owing to a scarcity of fish the committee is compelled to announce the postponement of the affair, but it is hoped to hold it sometime before the summer closes.

Fishermen state there appears to be no fish in the river at this time, and it is impossible to secure a quantity sufficient for a fish fry. The committee also attempted to secure chicken and fill out the menu in that way but these also are proving scarce. It is regretted that the Pythians were unable to hold the fish fry, as they had made elaborate plans for an enjoyable time. A large crowd was expected, and arrangements had been made to convey the members and their friends to the club house in cars.

WAVERLY MAN HURT

It was reported yesterday that Elmer Carr, a resident of Waverly, suffered a fractured right leg and a cut head Tuesday while helping a gang of men handling logs. He is now in a Springfield hospital for treatment.

Jacob Parker, porter at the School for the Deaf will leave the latter part of the week for a vacation in Wisconsin.

Dr. Thrapp stated that he went from his pastorate here to the First Christian church of Los Angeles, where he remained nine years. This is the mother church of the 97 churches of that denomination in that section and are building splendid churches throughout the five counties in the south part of the state.

From Los Angeles Dr. Thrapp went to the First church at Seattle, where he is now the pastor. That church recently completed the erection of a $170,000 church building, which was dedicated May 13. A new pipe organ has been installed and will probably be used for the first time next Sunday.

Following Dr. Thrapp's remarks, Mrs. Thrapp sang "Face to Face." The meeting was dismissed by C. L. Mathis. The reception which followed was informal. Those present welcomed Dr. and Mrs. Thrapp. The evening closed with a number of songs by Mrs. Thrapp, the titles of which were: "Thou Art So Like a Flower," (Chadwick); "I Passed by Your Window," (Brake); Cradle song, "Pirate Dreams," (Hubert); Irish song, "Top 'o the Mornin'"; sacred song, "I'm a Pilgrim."

Mrs. Thrapp's soprano voice is of wide range and beautiful quality and her songs were heard with very great pleasure by the company. Her accompanist was Miss Martha Priest. During the reception, Dr. Thrapp told of his son, Eldridge, in whom a number were interested as they had known him while in this city. He is now connected with the S. M. Cooper Building Co., in Los Angeles. Dr. and Mrs. Thrapp expect to leave the latter part of the week for New York, where they will spend the next few weeks.

C. E. BROWN DEAD IN SPRINGFIELD

Served Many Years as Wabash Division Superintendent.

Word was received in Jacksonville yesterday by local Wabash officials, announcing the death in Springfield Tuesday of C. E. Brown who was for a great number of years division superintendent of this division of the Wabash.

Mr. Brown was a self-made railroad man, working up to the high position that he held for so long, by serving as operator, dispatcher, trainmaster and finally to division superintendent, a position from which he retired on a pension several years ago. The Springfield division of the Wabash has never had an official who was more respected among the employees than Mr. Brown, and expressions of sorrow at the news of his death were very prevalent around the stations yesterday. The funeral will be held in Springfield today.

INJURED BY FALLING BEAM

Bert Smith of 1027 North Fayette street received an injury yesterday morning at the Illinois Steel Bridge company which was thought for a while to be of a very serious nature.

While at his work, a heavy beam fell upon his legs and it thought that both of them were very badly broken. He was removed to Passavant hospital and Dr. Allen M. King was called. An X-ray picture developed the fact that there were no bones broken, but he is very badly bruised and swollen. He was removed to his home yesterday afternoon and was resting fairly easy last night, with the probabilities that there will be no serious results on account of the accident.

Lester Means of Sinclair transacted business in Jacksonville yesterday.

EARN RIGHT TO PLAY IN THIS COUNTRY

French Tennis Players Defeat Spain Earning Right to Meet Australian-Jap Winner Here.

BEAUVILLE, Aug. 1.—(By The Associated Press)—The French tennis players by completing their defeat of Spain in the finals of the Davis Cup tournament have earned the right to travel to the United States to meet the winner of the Australia-Japan final of the American zone to determine what nation is to oppose the United States in the challenge round.

Rene LaCoste, who will be one of France's representatives in the United States was the mainstay of the French team his defeat of Count DeGomar being the only reverse the Spanish nobleman suffered in the Davis cup singles in Europe this year.

Their match was the turning point in the series. The school boy also will be France's best bet in America and with Henri Cochet who played there last year, and Andre Gobert practically out of it, it will be up to Hean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon to carry the rest of the French Davis cup ambitions. Business affairs make it impossible for Francois Blanchy, the French champion, to make the trip.

It was by superior steadiness that Blanchy put the finishing touch on France's victory over Spain in his match with Flannery this afternoon by the score of 6-1; 6-2; 3-6 and 6-1.

CARDS AND DODGERS ARE TIED FOR PLACE

Cardinals Take Double Header—Both Games See-Saw Affairs Featured by Heavy Hitting.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 1.—St. Louis went into a tie with Brooklyn for fifth place by capturing a double-header from the Dodgers here today. After winning the first part of the twin bill 11 to 10, the Cardinals were forced to travel fourteen innings before annexing the nightcap 7 to 6. Both contests which were see-saw affairs, were featured by heavy batting. A squeeze play with the bases filled gave the Cardinals victory in the second contest after pinchhitter Wheat's homer with a man on base tied the score in the ninth. A double, triple and single in the last inning enabled the locals to win the first.

ANOTHER DOUBLE HEADER FOR BRAVES

Athletics Have Dropped Ten Games in Row and Fallen to Seventh Place

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—St. Louis took another double header from Philadelphia today winning the first game 2 to 0 and the second, 8 to 3. The Athletics have now lost 10 games in a row and have dropped to seventh place. The first game was protested by Manager Mack following the banishment of Pitcher Danforth of St. Louis who was alleged to have been discoloring the ball. Danforth held the locals to two hits up to the ninth when he was removed.

NEW YORK, August 1.—Extensive short covering operations inspired by the marked overnight improvement in the president's condition, publication of several favorable earnings reports and a bullish government report brought about a sharp recovery in prices in today's stock market.

The opening was the strongest in several months. It is indicated the presence of a large short interest which apparently had become unwieldy. While there was some buying by so-called "bargain hunters," the bulk of the business was of professional origin.

Earnings of the steel corporation were nearly $3,000,000 above earlier estimates and this fact together with an optimistic statement by Chairman E. H.
Gardner on the business outlook, brought heavy buying of the steel shares.

United States common was pushed up more than two points to 87½ and then fell back to 87½;
Bethlehem, Crucible, Republic and Gulf States steels closed 1½
@ 2½ points higher on the day.
Rails moved to higher ground
but gains as a whole were limited to a point or so. Great Northern preferred, Rock Island common and the two classes of preferred, Northern Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio and New York Central were conspicuously strong.

U. S. Government bonds were relatively steady.

Chicago Cash Wheat

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Wheat in the cash market closed 1½ @ 2c better. Premiums were unchanged to be better for winter grades and unchanged for spring grades.
Domestic shipping sales here were 10,000 bushels and there were sales of 250,000 bushels to go to store here. Millers reported improved flour business and northwestern millers said many orders have been noted for shipment in January and later.
Corn closed 1½ @ 2½c lower.
Premiums were based on September price today and finished firm.

Local shipping sales were 50-
600 bushels.

Oats closed unchanged in prices and premiums. Domestic shipping sales here were 50,000
bushels.

Cars inspected: Wheat 328;
corn 250; oats 107.

ROAD BUILDERS TURN TRAFFIC FROM MOUND

Tourists Must Now Go by Diamond Grove Cemetery Into Lynnvill—Put up Many Signs for Convenience of Travellers.

Harold Welch and T. M. Tomlinson had a busy morning yesterday, altering tourist routes and putting up signs directing travellers into Jacksonville and out of the city to the various towns at a distance. Owing to the fact that work has been started on the hard road west of the city, the Mound road is closed to traffic and tourists are compelled to detour. According to directions posted yesterday, tourists will turn south from Mound avenue onto Lincoln avenue and proceed to Diamond Grove cemetery, where they will turn west. This road leads into Lynnvill, where the tourist may turn back northward and return to the Ocean to Ocean trail.

Several gangs of men are at work on the Mound road, grading and preparing to put down concrete. The road will be closed for several weeks. In the work yesterday, signs directing people to Hannibal, Virginia, Quincy and Springfield were put in place, as were also several arrows pointing into Jacksonville. The Chamber of Commerce is having fifty more of these "To Jacksonville" signs painted, and they will be placed at convenient points for miles around the city, so that no tourist can escape finding the city, even if he so desired.

The city tour was also altered, so that travellers turn from Mound avenue into Lockwood place and proceed to West College avenue. Boosters for the Dollar Day and Morgan county fair billed the country from here to Virginia yesterday afternoon, and will be out again today.

HAD INTERESTING WESTERN JOURNEY

Norman Deweese and Lee Rexroat, both of this city, have returned from a 15 day combined business and pleasure trip to various western points. Their trip was made by car and they visited Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Colo., and Eldorado, Garnett and Colony, Kansas. At Eldorado they saw an oil well that was at one time the biggest producer in the world, giving 39,000 barrels a day for a period of six months. The field in which this well is located is six miles wide and 45 miles long, and is literally covered with derricks.

Mr. Deweese mentioned the number of tourists that were to be seen in Colorado Springs, saying that there were thousands and thousands of them and that a person had difficulty in navigating the streets, the throng of visitors was so great. He said that many rich Oklahoma Indians were there for the summer, with their squaws, papooses and Pierce-Arrow cars, and would give as high as $300 a month for a house that was not worth much more than that as a purchase price.

BROOKLYN BURGEO WAS SUCCESS

Altho Brooklyn church made 250 gallons of burgoo soup last evening, 50 more than last year, it was all sold out by six o'clock and many went hungry in consequence. As the ladies of the church have tender hearts and don't like to see such a state of affairs they have decided to hold another burgoo on Thursday, August 3. The same committee will control this picnic that controlled yesterday's.

After the disappearance of the burgoo soup the crowd fell upon the cake, pies, sandwiches, coffee and everything available, until 8 o'clock yesterday evening ice cream was the only thing obtainable, and that also soon disappeared.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Curtis the following ladies were kept very busy waiting on the crowd that appeared to dispose of the good things, and a royal job these assistants did, seeing that every one was properly and promptly waited upon as long as there was anything left to serve: Mesdames E. E. Beasly, G. E. Belzer, E. Proffitt, Alfred Cowdin, W. H. Arenz, William Hembrough, William Hainline, E. La Whitlock and Harry Clark. Reid were the official soup carriers as long as that article was in sight to be carried.

SUIT BROUGHT TO ENFORCE CONTRACT

A suit to enforce the terms of a contract was filed Wednesday in the office of Circuit Clerk Wamamaker by Copp & Frank, directed against G. M. Luttrell. The bill traces the ownership of a building from the Ricks estate thru T. S. Scott to the present owner and maintains that the right to continue the lease for a further period of years belongs to the complainant and that requests for such lease have met with denial. The complainants are represented by Judge, H. P. Samuel.

HOME FROM WEST

The Misses Helen Shreve and Ethel Rowe arrived home last night from an extended visit through the west. Their itinerary included the Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks, California and Chicago.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

MORGAN COUNTY FAIR NOTES

The great task of advertising the Morgan County fair was launched in full sway with the office in the Chamber of Commerce at headquarters yesterday. Hundreds of brightly colored posters were taken to various parts of the county in conjunction with the Dollar day advertising. The posters and window cards of the fair this year are very attractive as well as elaborate. Sticker seals are also provided to be placed upon windshields of cars, and it is expected that many hundreds of these will be in use in the near future.

Representatives of various tent renting concerns were calling among the fair directors yesterday, and many propositions are offered the fair. It is expected that the contract which will include thousands of square feet of tents will be let tomorrow, since no definite action has been taken as yet. These tents will be furnished all buyers of concessions as a nominal rental by the fair association, as well as being used to house the various departments.

ATTRACTIVE BOOKLET LAUDS JACKSONVILLE

Fred High Sends out First Copies of Story of This City and its Activities—Books Full of Interesting Facts of History and Description, Also Pictures

A limited number of the books describing Jacksonville, which were written by Fred High, have arrived at the Chamber of Commerce. This is the second book in Mr. High's series on "Making Service Pay." It is filled with interesting history and description of Jacksonville and its institutions and enterprises. A large number of cuts have been used in adding to the attractiveness of the booklet.

Mr. High has told of this city in an interesting manner and in a way calculated to create a desire in strangers to come here and make homes and build industries.

This booklet will be distributed thruout the country in places where it will give the most efficient publicity. It contains twenty-four pages, and is divided into the following chapters: "Why Will Irwin selected Jacksonville as the most Beautiful Town in the Middle West." "The Athens of the West." "Do the Bankers Make a Town?" "The Magic Story of the Ferris Wheel." "The Community Revival, its Aims and what it Accomplished." "How the Citizens Triumphed over what seemed Unsurmountable Difficulties." "What the Chamber of Commerce has Accomplished." The closing paragraphs of Mr. High's booklet will give some idea of the spirit in which he has written up the city and its activities.

There are few places in this country that afford a wider, deeper range of human interest and scientific study than can be found in this City of Institutions. Factories are turning to this city, and negotiations are now on with several big industrial plants looking towards a place to work out their greater program. Labor conditions are ideal; living conditions are ideal; social conditions are such that work and culture could be made to co-operate in a way that would be beneficial to both.

To those who are looking for an ideal little city in which to live and to educate their children it is the writer's opinion that Will Irwin's description of Jacksonville as a home city tells only a part of the story. The real Jacksonville can not be snapped with a camera—it can not be seen with the eye, but has to be understood by the spirit of its institutions and valued by the ideals of its people.

Place Where Many Old Residents of West End Were Laid to Rest Is Purchased from Capt. Kirby—Bodies Removed to Diamond Grove Years Ago

Andrew Russel has purchased from Capt. William A. Kirby five acres of ground on Lincoln avenue, which was formerly the site of the College Hill cemetery. The property joins Mr. Russel's land and was purchased as an addition to it. Capt. Kirby has owned the tract for many years. It formerly belonged to Illinois college, and was for years the burying ground of residents in the west end of the city. The bodies were carefully removed by Capt. Kirby and others many years ago and re-interred in Diamond Grove cemetery. A number of Mr. Russel's ancestors were interred there.

The place was the burying ground for many of the most prominent residents of early Jacksonville. It is now used as a corn field.
